INJUNCTION TO RAILROADS

Judge Swaine Issues Order to Prevent Putting Into Effect of
New Lumber Rates.

Attorney General Ellis of Florida, says the Jacksonville Metropolis, has recently been advised by the clerk of the United States Court at Pensacola that Judge Swaine has granted the injunction asked for by the Louisville and Nashville, Seaboard Air Line, Atlantic Coast Line and Georgia Southern and Florida railroads, to prevent the putting into effect of lumber rates ordered by the Florida Railroad Commission.

This does not mean the end of the matter by any means. It is the intention of the Florida Railroad Commission to fight the case through to the highest court in the country if necessary and the commission is confident of final success. In the meantime, however, the railroads will go on charging what the Railroad Commission has decided are unreasonably high rates on lumber.

These cases came into existence through the petition of the principal lumber producers in Florida for a reduction in lumber rates. For years the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line railroads had been operating what were known as special rates on lumber from the mills in Florida prescribed by the Railroad Commission. On January 10th of this year the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line withdrew their special rates on lumber and began charging the commission's rates. As probably three-fourths of the lumber handled out of Florida has been handled under special rates, the raise in lumber rates aroused the lumber producers of the state, and they appealed to the commission for relief.

The commission immediately took the matter in hand and after several hearings, at which both the railroad officials and the millmen were present, the commission made an order reducing all lumber rates in the state. The new rate was quite satisfactory to the millmen. It was based on mileage and placed all mills similarly situated on a like basis. The new rate was to have gone into effect on January 1st, but the railroads effected a temporary restraining order before that time which prevented the operation of the rate.

Bondsmen.

In his "History of Coal Mining" R. W. Galloway points out that what appear to be traces of a primitive state of servitude existed in Staffordshire, England, where the laborers employed in the haulage of coal continued to be known as "bondsmen," a name probably coming down from a remote period, a supposition which receives support from a peculiar service required of them known as "buildases." This consisted in working at times in the morning without receiving any payment beyond a drink of ale. This custom of exacting labor without pay is supposed to represent some ancient service required from their tenants by the monks of the abbey of Buildwas, in Shropshire, whence the name was derived.

Ancient Thomas Parr.

Thomas Parr lived 152 years and was buried in Westminster abbey. Born in Shropshire, England, in 1433, Parr led the life of an agricultural laborer in his native place till blindness and extreme old age kept him indoors. Early in 1635, his longevity having made him famous, Thomas, earl of Arundel, took him to London to be exhibited to Charles I. He was lodged in the Strand, but the change of air and diet told upon him, and in November of that same year he died. He was described as a good looking man of medium size, with a deep chest and a thick beard. He attributed his excellent health to moderation in eating and drinking.

The Pepper Vine.

The most common and widely used of all spices is pepper. It is a native of the East Indies, but is now cultivated in various parts of the tropical belt of this hemisphere. The plant is a climber and has a smooth stem sometimes twelve feet long. The fruit is about the size of a pea and when ripe is of a bright red color. In cultivation the plant is supported by poles. In some localities small trees are used instead of poles, for the best pepper is grown in a certain degree of shade.

Self Approving.

"Do you feel that you did anything for the good of your country?" asked the serious citizen.
"I don't know about that," answered the congressman. "But I feel that I have a better record than some in not doing any damage."—Exchange.

Ideal, but Impossible.

"We can't have everything in this life," said the philosopher.
"No," answered Mr. Dustin Star. "The ideal but impossible combination is a millionaire man with a deck hand's appetite."—Washington Star.

An Exaggeration.

Richard—They say he gave you a black eye, Robert—That's the way people exaggerate. I had the eye already. He merely laid on the color.

THANKS OF CITY
EXTENDED TO
DR. GUITERAS

Mayor Bliss and Committee from
Chamber of Commerce
Call on Him.

Last evening a committee from the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, together with Mayor Bliss, called upon Dr. Guiteras and tendered him the thanks of the city for his kindness in coming to Pensacola and for the assistance which he had rendered while here.

The committee was composed of President Stillman, Secretary W. C. Jones, and Directors C. F. Zeek and Frank L. Mayes.

Dr. Guiteras was also invited to remain here another week, but if that was not possible to return here when he had concluded his business in Tampa for which place he leaves this morning.

The doctor expressed his appreciation of the visit, saying that he would be glad to remain as long as he could be of any service to Pensacola, but that he had business in Tampa that required his attention now. He would, however, he said, return if it were possible to do so.

PENSACOLA HELD IN JACKSONVILLE.

The Times-Union of yesterday contained the following:
John W. Hodges, Pullman car conductor and Samuel Stann, Pullman car porter, who left Pensacola on the morning of August 23, at 7 o'clock, were taken in charge by F. D. Miller, City Health Officer, at the union station last night, and sent to the detention camp.

Mr. Hodges boards in Jacksonville at 1614 Hubbard street, and the colored porter is a resident of New Orleans. Dr. Miller is making every effort to locate parties arriving from infected districts. He has placed special inspectors on all trains coming from toward Pensacola, and there will be very little chance for parties to enter Jacksonville from the fever centers.

THE JUICY GRAPE.

Its History Is Well Nigh as Old as That of Man.

The history of the grape is almost as old as that of man. Growing in its highest perfection in Syria and Persia, its luscious fruit recommended it to the especial care of the patriarchal tillers of the soil, and vineyards were extensively planted long before orchards or collections of other fruit trees were at all common.

The grape came originally from Persia. From the latter country as civilization advanced westward this fruit accompanied it—first to Egypt, then to Greece, Sicily, Italy, Spain, France and then to Great Britain, to which latter country the Romans carried it 200 years after Christ.

To America the seeds and plants of the European varieties were brought by emigrants and colonists the first fifty years after its settlement.

There are a vast number of varieties of grapes, but there are really only about a dozen varieties good for the table. California produces the Tokay, Muscat, Black Prince, Malaga, etc., while the eastern states produce such varieties as the Concord, Catawba, Niagara, Delaware, Black Hamburg and Isabella.—New England Grocer.

Horsepower.

The difference between nominal, indicated and effective horsepower often puzzles people. Nominal horsepower is an assumed quantity, used for the convenience of makers and buyers in describing the dimensions of the engines. Indicated horsepower is the amount shown by computations of the indicator diagram. Effective or actual horsepower is the work an engine can do or the difference between the indicated horsepower and the horsepower required to drive the engine when unloaded.
